LIFETIME OF SERVICE LEADS TO LEGACY GIFT

David Knauft was doing service-learning before it even existed at UGA. His legacy gift to the Office of Service-Learning will ensure that the groundwork he laid will continue into the future.

David and Evelyn Knauft have included money in their will to go to the Office of Service-Learning to continue connecting students to the community around them.

A professor, researcher and associate dean in agriculture at four different universities, Knauft's accomplishments include helping to identify a mutation in peanuts that makes peanut oil healthier than olive oil.

A highlight of his 19 years at UGA has been creating and teaching Project FOCUS (Fostering Our Community's Understanding of Science), an ongoing partnership between UGA and the Clarke County School District that helps elementary and middle school students better understand science. The program partners science majors with Clarke County teachers to help teach kindergarten through eighth grade.

Project FOCUS was one of the first and largest service-learning opportunities at UGA.

“We hope our gift will have a broad impact in people's lives,” Knauft said. “Not just on students, but also faculty members, and people in the community as well.”

ATHENS RESTAURANT INVESTS IN GEORGIA OYSTERS ON THE HALF-SHELL

Seabear Oyster Bar in Athens is more than 200 miles from the Georgia coast.

But its owners are investing in the UGA Oyster Hatchery on Skidaway Island, hoping to one day soon offer fresh Georgia oysters on the half shell, alongside the Alpine Bay oysters from Prince Edward Island, Canada, and the White Stone oysters from Virginia’s Chesapeake Bay.

“I fully believe that the closer you are to the source of the oyster the better they taste,” said Patrick Stubbers, who owns Seabear with Noah Brendel and Peter Dale.

Seabear was a silver sponsor of the first Oyster Roast for a Reason, a fundraiser for the hatchery held in November 2016.

The hatchery, built at the UGA Marine Extension and Georgia Sea Grant Shellfish Research Lab on Skidaway, is the first of its kind in Georgia. It is intended to help establish an oyster aquaculture industry, allowing harvesters to farm single oysters that can be sold on the half-shell. The hatchery is expected to produce between 5 million and 6 million spat, or baby oysters, per year by 2018, worth an estimated $1.6 million when harvested.

Located in the Bottleworks on Prince Avenue in Athens, Seabear opened in 2014 and is committed to sustainable oyster cultivation.

ATLANTA COUPLE HONORS MOTHERS WITH GIFT TO GARDEN

A $225,000 gift to the State Botanical Garden of Georgia will pay for the construction of a stainless steel and polished glass arbor in the Alice H. Richards Children's Garden.

Adrian and John Robinson, with their children Will and Rice, made the gift as a tribute to their mothers, who were among the earliest members of the State Botanical Garden Board of Advisors. John's mother, Margaret Mobley Robinson, who lives in Sea Island, was a charter member of the board when it formed in 1985. Adrian's mother, Charlotte Carter Merry, who lives in Highlands, N.C., joined the board in 1988.

Adrian and John met as children and were in school together in Athens until second grade when Charlotte Merry remarried and the family moved to Augusta. Years later, after graduating from college, they reconnected during a Gardens of the World Ball and married a few years later.

“It's all about our mothers,” said Adrian Robinson, an advisory board member since 2016. “They loved this botanical garden and worked so hard. They truly put their heart and soul into it. ”

PUBLIC SERVICE AND OUTREACH UNITS

The ARCHWAY PARTNERSHIP establishes long-term relationships with selected communities to identify the issues they face and then coordinates UGA faculty, staff and other resources to help them address their community and economic development needs. Eight counties in Georgia participate; five have already graduated from the program.

Rob Gordon, gordon@uga.edu, 706-542-1098

The CARL VINSON INSTITUTE OF GOVERNMENT provides training and development, specialized assistance and data-driven studies to help governments throughout Georgia and the world become more efficient, more responsive and better managed.

Laura Meadows, lmeadows@uga.edu, 706-542-6192

The CENTER FOR CONTINUING EDUCATION & HOTEL is a 300,000-square-foot, comprehensive public service educational unit that annually enrolls more than 100,000 adults in its on-site and distance-learning programs. Other activities for the campus, community and state serve an additional 100,000 people each year.

Dawn Cartee, cartee@uga.edu, 706-542-3451

The J.W. FANNING INSTITUTE FOR LEADERSHIP DEVELOPMENT works with communities, nonprofits, professional associations and youth to help develop knowledgeable, skilled and committed leadership that will enhance community and economic development in Georgia communities, the nation and beyond.

Matt Bishop, mlbishop@fanning.uga.edu, 706-542-6201

MARINE EXTENSION AND GEORGIA SEA GRANT works to increase the efficiency of existing marine industries, to identify new industries that do not harm the environment and to increase public awareness and understanding of coastal ecosystems. The programs delivered through locations in Athens, Atlanta and on the coast extend economic and cultural benefits throughout the state and region. Georgia Sea Grant sponsors research that addresses problems unique to Georgia as well as other research that has a national scope.

Mark Risse, mrisse@uga.edu, 706-542-5956

The OFFICE OF SERVICE-LEARNING supports UGA faculty members in increasing and expanding service-learning opportunities for students in campus-based and study abroad courses. The unit also cultivates community-based partnerships that respond to expressed community needs. The Office of Service-Learning reports to the Office of the Vice President for Public Service and Outreach and the Office of the Vice President for Instruction.

Shannon Wilder, swilder@uga.edu, 706-542-0535

The SMALL BUSINESS DEVELOPMENT CENTER provides a wide range of educational opportunities to small business owners, potential entrepreneurs and community leadership organizations that support efforts to create, sustain or expand business ventures.

Allan Adams, aadams@georgiasbdc.org, 706-542-2762

The STATE BOTANICAL GARDEN OF GEORGIA provides the public and UGA faculty and students opportunities for education, research and events through its natural areas, display gardens and building spaces.

Jennifer Cruse-Sanders, crusesanders@uga.edu, 706-542-6131

For more than 200 years, the University of Georgia, as the land- and sea-grant institution, has worked throughout the state to create communities with educated citizens, strong civic and business leaders, good infrastructure, a skilled workforce, and amenities that help provide a positive quality of life, all key to attracting new companies and jobs. The University of Georgia continues to be uniquely positioned to boost the economic vitality of the state and increase prosperity for all Georgians.

That's our commitment.
